In a world plagued by conflict and division, the Church has a crucial role to play as a community of peacemakers. Jesus calls every one of us to love God, our neighbours, ourselves and our enemies. It's a challenging command, with nobody left out. We're all given the message and task of reconciliation. The Archbishop's Reconciliation Ministry encompasses 2 main streams of work:

The Difference Course

Difference is a course for you to run that explores following Jesus in a complex and divided world, seeing transformation through everyday encounters.

Peacebuilding

Peacebuilding is creating an architecture through which peace can develop: processes, structures, relationships and values that lead towards - even incentivise - non-violent action and disagreeing well, reducing or removing the drivers of violent conflict.

Why we need reconciliation

A message from Archbishop Justin on why reconciliation is the greatest need in our world today.
The Cross of Nails is a symbol of hope and friendship in the aftermath of conflict.

Watch the Archbishop’s previous adviser for reconciliation, Canon Sarah Snyder, talking about why every Christian is called to work for reconciliation:

Reconciliation

"Christ calls us to be peacemakers who cross the borders and barriers that divide us and radical in our generosity and welcome."

Archbishop Justin Welby
