

unities in the Diocese of Birmingham. See some of the highlights

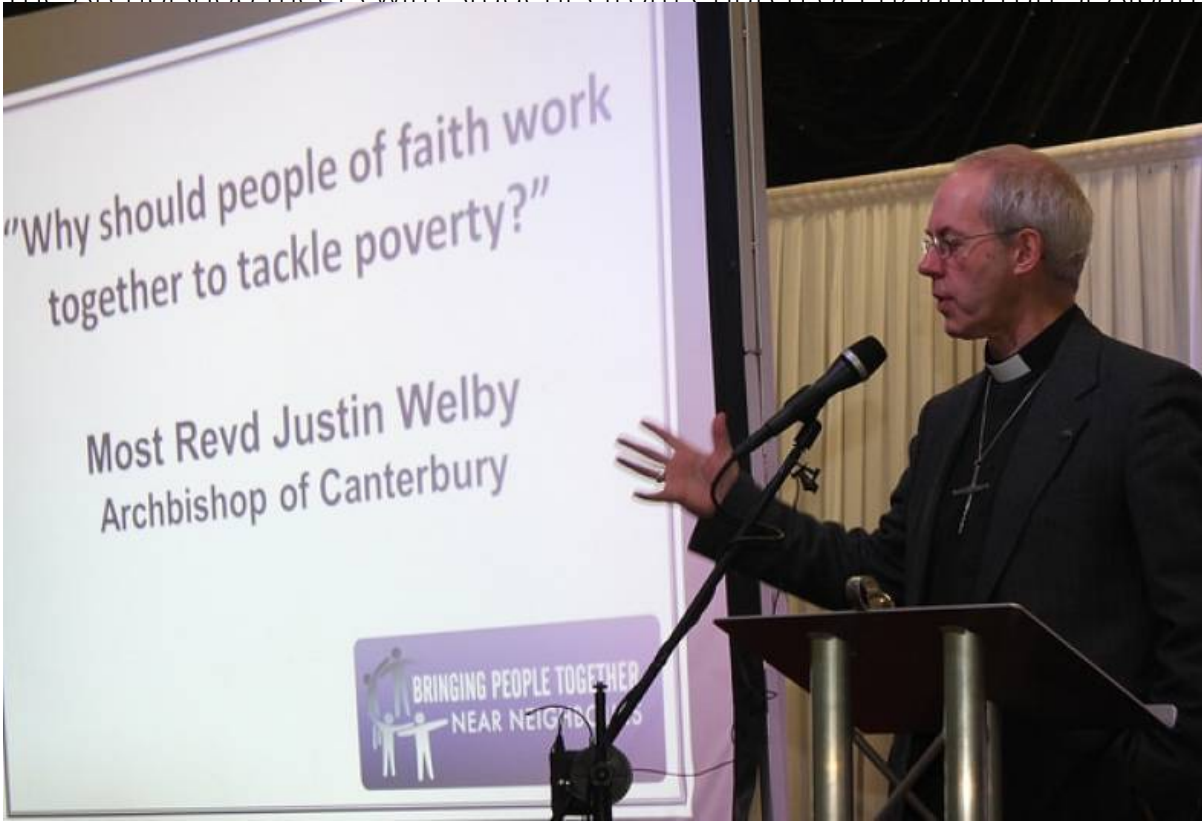

Archbishop Justin Welby and Bishop of Birmingham David Urquhart hit the streets of Birmingham city centre on Saturday night with City Pastors,

The Archbishop gets baking with Great British Bake-Off quarter finalist Martha Collison at the 'Recipe for Life' event for Christians aged 16-30 at St Martin in the Bull Ring church. The pair discussed faith and made cakes for a local church-run winter night shelter.

The Archbishop meets with students from Church of England-run St Alban's Academy in Highgate, Birmingham. He answered students' questions

Speaking at a multi-faith conference on tackling poverty, the Archbishop urges activists to create "communities of beauty". The conference, organised by the C of E's Near Neighbours programme, was attended by people of Christian, Muslim, Sikh, Hindu and Jewish faith.

Read more about the visit, and view more photos, on the Diocese of Birmingham website.

1 min read

Source URL: <https://www.archbishopofcanterbury.org/news/archbishop-justin-visits-birmingham>