

media in solving disagreements.

In a post on why reconciliation is often best done in person, Archbishop Justin Welby writes: "Love often says don't tweet. Love often says don't write. Love often says if you must rebuke, then do so in person and with touch – with an arm around the shoulder and tears in your eyes that can be seen by the person being rebuked."

Read the full blog

1 min read

---

Source URL: <https://www.archbishopofcanterbury.org/news/latest-news/news-archive-2015/why-love-often-says-dont-tweet>